CASUALTIES LIGHTER IN TWO NIGHT AIR ATTACKS ON LONDON

Church Hall and Factory Set Afire in Central Part of City—Only Four Bombs Dropped in Capital During Day—Two Hundred Nazi Raiders Turned Back by R.A.F. Over Kent

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP).—The Nazi air force smashed at Central and Southern London last night and early today to complete its second consecutive week of night-long raids on the capital. After a lull in the middle of the night, the Germans returned to continue the attack until almost dawn.

Casualties during the night raid were less severe than on previous nights, the Government announced this morning on the basis of preliminary reports.

The later hours of the second raid were marked by sporadic firing of anti-aircraft guns near the centre of the city. Several times raiders glided in from a great height to drop projectiles from just above the balloon barrage.

CENTRAL LONDON HIT

Towns in Southeast England also were bombed, but not as heavily as usual.

A church hall in Central London and a factory next door were set afire by a bomb. Authorities reported the flames were extinguished quickly and that the scores of persons in a cellar under the hall were unhurt.

In the break between the first and second night raids, most persons simply remained in their shelters.

Censorship prohibited transmission of the precise times the night raid began and ended and the new onslaught began.

GUNS EARLY IN ACTION
During the first attack the skies had been alight with the sharp flashes of heavy anti-aircraft fire firing all about the city.

A number of bombs fell—some of them in districts south of the Thames—and for a time flares threw a hard red light over the centre of London. Bombs followed the flares.

British pilots, in lofty ambush over the air lanes leading to London, sprang a daylight trap Friday on a German squadron of 200.

CANADA TO GET SIX U.S. SHIPS

Destroyers to Be Commissioned Before Christmas in Dominion's Service

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—Canada's growing navy just about doubled its strength today with the announcement that six of the fifty United States craft being transferred to Great Britain will be commissioned in the Dominion's service.

Acquisition of the vessels brings to thirteen the destroyer strength of the Canadian Navy which, in addition, has scores of other naval vessels, including minesweepers and subchasers.

NAMES OF DESTROYERS
Names of the new destroyers will be the Annapolis, Columbia, Niagara, St. Clair, St. Croix and St. Francis—after rivers known both in Canada and the United States.

Already in service are the Restigouche, St. Laurent, Ottawa, Acadia, Bonaventure, Margate, Saguenay and Skeena.

Although some of the newly-acquired ships have been laid up for some time, they are apparently in good shape, the minister said. They will be taken over in a few days and manned by Canadian crews.

Mr. Macdonald anticipated delivery of all fifty destroyers by Christmas. The United Kingdom has allotted six to Canada, and "we will man them and fight them," he said.

REPLACES FRASER

The Margate was formerly H.M.S. Diana and was recently commissioned into the Royal Canadian Navy at a port in England, to replace the destroyer Fraser, sunk while on active service off the coast of France.

All Is Not Well With Nazi Troops Claim Travelers

Arrivals From Europe at New York Give Information—State German Troops Rebelled Against Invasion Attempt—Thousands of German Soldiers Said Killed Aboard Barges

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP).—A former Netherlands artillery captain told today of rebellion among Nazi troops training for the attempt to invade Great Britain and described columns of mutineers being marched back to labor camps with their hands thrust behind their backs.

The story was told by Captain Carl Ter Weite, thirty-seven, who arrived on the American Export liner Exeter from Lisbon. Other passengers said the morale of the German army has suffered such a severe blow through heavy losses of life during practice maneuvers that invasion of Britain now is unlikely.

They reported also that occupied France and Holland are teeming with civilian informants who advised British authorities when German ships and self-propelled barges were sighted.

WAR LOAN GOES OVER THE TOP

Books Close at Noon Today—Small Subscriptions Pouring In

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—A substantial over-subscription to Canada's $300,000,000 second war loan is expected by the time the loan books close tomorrow noon official said tonight.

No new figures were available tonight, but cash subscriptions up to Thursday night were within $60,000 of the objective. A complete total will be announced after the closing of the books tomorrow.

Reports again indicated a heavy volume of small subscriptions and many earlier subscribers increased their orders. Several dealers reported their heaviest day today in number of orders handled.

A feature was an addition of $1,000,000 from Canadian International Paper Co. Ltd., Montreal, bringing that company's subscription to $1,200,000.

SECOND UPWARD REVISIONS
In Toronto the Canadian General Electric Company made the second upward revision of its subscription of $150,000, making its total $900,000. The Canadian Order of Foresters increased its subscription by $268,000 to $468,000.

Further subscriptions from British Columbia include: The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. Ltd., Allenby, $50,000; Powell River Co. ## From Europe Day by Day

THE TIMES, London
News and Comment on International Events wired from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940 by Southern Co.)
LONDON, Sept. 20 (By Cable).—As the British Air Command in the Middle East has now been provided with many new modern long-range bombers, severe punishment can be given Italian positions everywhere in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Mass bombing of Continental ports continues relentlessly from Flushing to Le Havre. Shipping concentrations, docks, harbors and everything likely to aid the would-be invaders of Britain have been sent up in flames or rendered useless to the enemy. The raids also extended into Germany and once again the railway yards at Hamm were wrecked.

French officers are resisting disarmament of their forces in Syria. The Times Cairo correspondent says French summaries refuse to surrender. Aachen refuse to hand over their bombers which the Italians could use to bomb the oil wells at Kirkuk. One year's supply of ammunition has been buried in the Lebanon Mountains to prevent the Italian Armistice Commission laying hands on it. The Syrians say the French have no right to use their mandate to hand them over to Italy.

Swedish military experts summing up Britain's position, point out that the Royal Air Force is neither broken nor even weakened, and that until it is, any attempted invasion by Hitler would be made at enormous risk.

But Hitler has got to avoid a long war, and so despite such a risk, he may yet attempt to land troops in Britain.

Moscow commentators say that the German High Command must soon make up its mind whether to cross the fatal twenty-five miles of water that has guarded the peace of Britain for nine centuries.

The Times' point is many complaints today about closing banks, postoffices and government departments during air raids, and quotes the case of a taxpayer who went with a cheque in hand to pay a sum in income tax and found not only the office closed, but an official who refused to receive his money.

There is much criticism also of the Government's failure to provide adequate shelters against bombing. Underground railways are now crowded at night with people who will not use ordinary street shelters.

The British military command said merely that there was "no change in the situation on the Western Desert" where the Italians are being driven back.

GERMANY'S GREAT WATERWAYS SYSTEM BLASTED BY BOMBERS

Royal Air Force Attacks Aqueducts Carrying Dortmund-Embs Canal Across River Near Munster—Raid Lasts for Hours and Heavy Damage Is Noted by Pilots

Assaults on French Coast Invasion Ports Continued

DOVER, Sept. 20 (CP).—British bombers returned tonight to a heavy assault upon the German-occupied French coast, from Calais to Boulogne. Bright bursts of flame, plainly visible across the Channel, rose through the mists, suggesting that new costly fires had been started in the area where the German army has assembled masses of invasion machinery and men. Above the blasts of bombs shell bursts and clusters of searchlight beams showed the Nazis were putting up stiff resistance.

GERMAN WATERWAYS HIT

LONDON, Sept. 20 (CP).—British bombers have struck three devastating blows at one of the vital links in Germany's internal waterways network, official sources disclosed. Bent on burning out Hitler's "invasion arteries" at their roots, the Royal Air Force dive bombers, in the face of gales, rain and sleet, smashed ten hours on Thursday night and early on Friday at the great aqueducts which carry the long Dortmund-Embs Canal over the River Rhine near Munster. The Air Ministry said they effectively disrupted the repair work which the Germans have been pressing following earlier attacks.

DARING NIGHT ATTACKS

This daring night today into the heart of Westphalia was only one of a series of attacks on German roads, railway and water communication systems, on the Channel ports where Hitler has massed his invasion fleet of barges and troopships, on airdromes in and out of Germany. From all these raids, the Air Ministry said, all British planes returned safely.

Moreover, the Kingdom's silent service, the Admiralty, gave official support to earlier reports that His Majesty's submarine Sturgeon had sunk a 10,000-ton German troopship off Northern Denmark nearly three weeks ago.

GERMAN TROOPS PRACTICE

British estimates that 200,000 German troops are methodically practising landing exercises on the North coast gave added point to the systematic work of both R.A.F. and navy in striking at the roots of these offensive forces.

The British bombers were over familiar ground in their thrust at the long canal which runs from Dortmund to the German North Sea naval base of Emden, for they inflicted much damage in previous attacks and Flight Lieutenant R. A. B. Leatroyd won the Victoria Cross for his attack on the Munster aqueducts last month.

The victim of the abduction, Marc de Tristan Jr., was snatched from his nurse middle-aged Mary Foley, with whom he was walking in the fashionable residential quarter. The ransom note, left with the nurse, was signed "Unconventional Eccentric."

The kidnapper struck the nurse to the ground, grabbed the baby and ran.

SIXTEEN ROMANIAN POLICE OFFICERS ARRESTED
BUCURESTI, Romania, Sept. 21 (CP).—The Iron Guard private police early today arrested sixteen gendarmes officers it accused of strangling the Iron Guard leader, Corneliu Codreanu, and thirteen of his followers two years ago. In a mystery-shrouded inquiry into the "martyrdom" of Codreanu, the pro-Nazi Guardists were said to have learned that his executioners received 4,000,000 lei (about $400,000) as special compensation for kidnapping the fourteen Guardists.

Mayor Andrew McGavin Points Out That Sufferings of Small Storekeepers and Auto Camp Stores in City Must Be Alleviated

NO action to rescind the Shops Early Closing By-Law and replace it with an amended measure, as proposed by the police commission, was taken by the City Council at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Further discussion on the matter will be held at the next meeting.

On motion of Alderman Archie Williams, it was decided to table for consideration in the near future a letter from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council urging the council to carefully debate any move to rescind the by-law, and another from Retail Clerks' Local 604 strenuously opposing any move to scrap the measure.

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman Edward Williams explained that many owners of small stores and auto camp grocery shops had asked the police commission to make

The alderman explained that the late R. T. Williams for years had urged that a bridge be erected at Seymour Narrows.

"The Government some time ago asked loyal Canadians not to ask for large and expensive projects," Alderman Williams reminded the council.

Member of Toronto University Staff Is Taken Into Custody

Dr Samuel Levine, Research Associate, Arrested Following Discovery of An Alleged Communist Letter in His Home—Two Others Held

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (U.P.).—The arrest today of Dr. Samuel Levine, a research associate in geophysics at the University of Toronto, was followed by a police disclosure that they had found in Levine's home a letter they believed had been written in connection with Communist underground activity.

When Levine was arrested in his university office, police said they already were holding Norman Freed and Muriel Ehrlichman, alleged members of the Communist Party, who police said, had been using a room in Levine's house.

Levine was charged under Defence of Canada Regulations and remanded one week.

The letter allegedly found in the Levine residence was dated September 15, 1940, and appeared to be a covering letter to accompanying pamphlet entitled, "A Political Letter on Our Tasks," copies of which police said they had found in Levine's possession.

TEXT OF LETTER
Text of the letter follows:
"Dear Friends—Enclosed you will find an important document issued by the political bureau entitled, 'A Political Letter on Our Tasks.'"

"This document must be made use of by our entire alliance, both to raise the political understanding of every member and to improve our agitation and mass-work in this critical period."

"It is proposed that each branch organize thorough-going discussion on this letter. That can be done by: (1) The secretary or chairman giving an outline based on the letter, or (2) reading one section at a time and then having a discussion on its contents. In this way it should be possible to devote a period of four weeks for such discussion. Every effort should be made to get full attendance at such meetings so as to enable every alliance member to understand the tasks facing us today."

"While the bureau will issue additional material relating to the letter, each branch should consider how our work can be improved, arising from the tasks facing us today. Yours truly, D.B."

Police said they believed the initials as a signature represented the alias of a member of the Communist Party executive.

BRITISH COURAGE
LONDON, Sept. 20 (U.P.).—Wickham Steed, British commentator, tonight likened the courage of the British people to that shown by the Royal Engineers squad which removed the time bomb threatening St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

The auditorium was filled, among those present being His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber, the honorary patrons, who were accompanied from Government House by Mrs. Mae Rice and Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn.

The vehicle chosen for the occasion was the light-hearted comedy, "Freddie Steps Out." Directed by Stewart G. Clark and with Fraser Lister in the title role of Freddie, this proved a most happy choice. The audience followed, with bubbling accompaniment of laughter, the development of the naïf and shy bachelor, Freddie, into the unaccountably successful and sought-after rival of the sophisticated philanthropist, George Gommery, played with a clever combination of liveliness and animation by Harry J. Davis.

IN THE CAST
Mr. Lister succeeded, with characteristic ability, in projecting a very convincing personality, whose naturalness and simple honesty were the foundation of most of the trouble and all the merriment of the play. Miss Connie Thompson as George's wife, Jane, gave another excellent comedy part, with Miss Noel Cusack as her foil in the vivacious role of Molly Mellicham. H. J. S. Reynolds, as the race-loving betting and bottle-loving Andrew Toomey, provided the farcical element, and Vaughan Barker and Sylvia Chaudley rounded out the cast in the brief roles of Parker, the butler, and Maggie, the maid.

Between the first and second acts, C. S. Henley, introduced by the house and properties manager, Art Kerr, spoke briefly from the stage, paying tribute to the splendid little group of theatre enthusiasts who had carried through the project of creating such a beautiful home for the Little Theatre movement in Victoria, and bespeaking the sympathetic interest and support of Victoria drama lovers.

"Between acts the Little Theatre orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Prescott, played much-appreciated selections, which evoked applause on its own account."

Responsible for off-stage effects which added so much to the success of this initial production, which is to be repeated tonight and three nights next week for the benefit of the Red Cross, the Navy League Chapter, I.O.E., and the Little Theatre Association's own funds, were Leslie F. Lamb, production manager; Pat Harrington, electrician; Art Kerr, house and properties manager, and Miss Audrey Wood, prompter.

ALL IN THE DARK

The latest story of Sir Thomas Becham, who was sixty-one the other day, relates to a railway journey in the black-out.

Sir Thomas reserved a compartment, to work in the train—but found there were no lights. Undaunted, he "conducted" a Brahms symphony, supplying vocal imitations of the various instruments.

At the first station, a dim light from the platform disclosed a woman cowering in the corner, looking thoroughly scared. For once a Becham audience wasn't giving an "encore."

'BRAIN WAVE' IS RECORDED

Instrument for Testing Flyers Indicates Physiological Character of Candidate

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—The most complete and delicate tests in the history of aviation now are being given candidates for the Royal Air Force, it was said today at the Air Ministry.

The examination was described as a scientific test of the "brain waves" of candidates. The pattern of the "brain wave" is taken electrically through an oscillograph and it was said, has been useful in conjunction with other regular physical tests of the air force.

Describing the oscillograph, partly developed by Major G. E. Hall and J. E. Goodwin, of the clinical investigation unit of the R.C.A.F., a spokesman said patterns of brain reactions were taken electrically through a head set and recorded on a strip of paper.

This pattern indicated whether or not the candidates would make a good pilot, observer or gunner, but added to its results were the indications given by the cardiograph, testing the heart, and observations made while candidates are subjected to air-pressure conditions such as might be found from 25,000 feet up.

All these tests are considered as indicative of the nervous and physiological character of the candidate, a spokesman said.

Atlantic Fishing Vessels Missing Following Storm

CHATHAM, N.B., Sept. 20 (CP).—Four fishing vessels with seventeen men aboard were still missing from north shore New Brunswick ports today, four days after a disastrous gale whipped through the Maritime Provinces.

Meanwhile, the known death toll among fishermen along the shore rose to two with the arrival here last night of a Caraqueet schooner which reported her captain, Edmund Gallien, of St. Simon, had been washed overboard.

Earlier yesterday, the exhausted three-man crew of a Shippeagan schooner reached Richibucto and said Captain J. Hache had been swept overboard.

Describing the oscillograph, partly developed by Major G. E. Hall and J. E. Goodwin, of the clinical investigation unit of the R.C.A.F., a spokesman said patterns of brain reactions were taken electrically through a head set and recorded on a strip of paper.

This pattern indicated whether or not the candidates would make a good pilot, observer or gunner, but added to its results were the indications given by the cardiograph, testing the heart, and observations made while candidates are subjected to air-pressure conditions such as might be found from 25,000 feet up.

APPOINTED FOR OVERSEAS DUTY

Commodore L. F. Stevenson, Chosen Commander of R.C.A.F. in Britain

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—One of Canada's most experienced air force officers has been chosen for the responsible post of officer commanding Canadian Royal Air Force headquarters in the United Kingdom. He is Air Commodore Leigh Forbes Stevenson, whose appointment to the post was announced today.

Stevenson succeeds Air Commodore George V. Walsh, who has held the post for the past few months and now is returning to Canada on sick leave.

Stevenson's duties will include command of Canada's three squadrons now operating overseas, two army co-operation squadrons and one fighter squadron, which now is playing an important role in the air battle raging in the skies over Southern Great Britain.

Overseas duty will be no novelty to the forty-five-year-old Stevenson, a flying man from Richibucto, N.B. He served in the first Great War and is a former liaison officer for the Royal Canadian Air Force at the British Air Ministry.

Stevenson's first war service was as a private in the 73rd Northumberland Regiment, which he joined at the age of sixteen. He later transferred to the 32nd Manitoba Light Horse and went overseas.

LONG SERVICE

In the last year of the war he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps, but later returned to the infantry. He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in its formation in 1921 and, except for an interval as a bank employee and an official of the Dominion Forestry Service, has been with the air force ever since.

In the early months of the present war he commanded the air station at Camp Borden. The organization of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan placed Stevenson in command of No. 4 training command at Regina, with jurisdiction over all training activities in Southern Saskatchewan, the whole of Alberta and British Columbia.

Group Capt. A. T. M. Cowley, officer commanding the air station at Camp Borden, will succeed Air Commodore Stevenson at Regina, while Group Capt. R. S. Grandy, officer commanding the air station at Dartmouth, N.S., will take over command at Camp Borden.

Wing Commander A. L. Morfee, senior air staff officer at No. 1 training command, Toronto, will succeed Group Capt. Grandy at Dartmouth, and Wing Commander J. L. Jackson, already attached to No. 1 training command, will succeed Morfee.

RECOGNIZED FOR INVENTIVE WORK

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—Canada is contributing inventive brains as well as men and arms to the British cause, an announcement by Navy Minister Macdonald indicated today.

The minister in a statement said two members of the Royal Canadian Navy, Lieut. M. A. Medland, Toronto, and Electrical Artificer Stanley C. Goodyear, Halifax, have been awarded £25 and £5, respectively, for inventive work.

Lieutenant Medland's contribution was an improvement in gun mountings which helped to prevent racking in winter.

Lieutenant Medland joined the R.C.N. as a cadet in September, 1930. He underwent an intensive training course at Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, England. Upon graduation, he was awarded the King's dirk, presented by His Majesty to the cadet who, during his period of training, exhibits the most gentlemanlike bearing and good influence among the cadets.

THE MEDITERRANEAN CAMPAIGN

It is a mistake to speak of the siege of Great Britain. That country is assailed from the air, but it is neither invested nor beleaguered. Mr. J. L. Garvin, the noted journalist, says the island is a fortress, but its maritime connections are as open and as wide as they ever were. Its shipping and sea power range the oceans. Mr. Garvin says, in fact, that "the mercantile tonnage is larger than ever; the Navy in all its annals has never held a more potent command." Moreover, "the military forces of the Empire can be carried safely from every part or to any part. Without ceasing, supplies from every continent flow round the globe to this island. We are fighting this war near and far, not as a surrounded fortress but as a historic World Power which has Britain as its main base."

In developing the implications of these statements of fact, Mr. Garvin points out how they apply to the immense theatres of the Mediterranean, North Africa and beyond. In the Mediterranean there is a vast extent of war—"for range of distance and variety of scene there has been nothing like it." He goes on to point out that the Middle Sea stretches for over 2,000 miles from Gibraltar to the Suez Canal. The Red Sea leads for 1,000 miles farther to those gates of the Indian Ocean where Mussolini is already established. By land the distance is 2,000 miles again from Alexandria through Egypt and the Sudan, past Abyssinia, to the frontiers of Kenya, where Central Africa begins. In this area, says Mr. Garvin, "by comparison with the full scale struggle that is bound to come, the opening operations have been little more than rival bombing raids and military skirmishes."

It has not yet been fully realized that in the Mediterranean campaign, which is now developing with the invasion of Egypt, the Germans are rendering aid to the Italians. There are German officers, technicians and picked soldiers there. There are German flying carriers for troops and supplies. Mr. Garvin says that the French crash "was a fabulous gain to Mussolini in North Africa. There, his western flank is completely cleared from formidable danger. He is no longer between two fires. Tunisia is assigned to him under the concealed peace terms. He can concentrate his whole strength, reinforced by German men and equipment, against Britain in Egypt and the Sudan."

A part of the Axis policy, according to Mr. Garvin, is to drag Spain and Spanish Morocco into the war. Gibraltar is not the main objective in this plan. It is the Straits of the Axis Powers desire to command by gunfire and bombing attacks from both sides. "Similarly," Mr. Garvin writes, "they look to establish themselves on both sides of the mid passage where the narrowness between Sicily and Tunis is less than a hundred miles across. That bold corner of North Africa where Carthage stood is still one of the bastions of the world." Mr. Garvin was writing before the Italian offensive started along the thrust-stricken and dust-stricken coast route between the desert and the sea. If he is to be believed, such an adventure is only a feat. His conception is that when the rains are over Mussolini will strike at Khartoum. If that place were taken, then Egypt would be doubly threatened, both from the Upper Nile and from Libya. Mr. Garvin then writes:

"Up to now Mussolini has been disappointed in his calculations upon air power against sea power and upon speed against strength in naval action. When American production comes into full play in the further phase of the long war, air supremacy added to maritime supremacy will settle the issue in the Mediterranean as elsewhere. Mussolini will never dominate the two thousand miles from Gibraltar to the Bosphorus or to the Suez Canal. He will never reign over the other two thousand miles from the mouths of the Nile to the gates of the Indian Ocean. His dream of empire is the mirage in the desert."

The lone and level sands stretch far away

ON HAVING IT BOTH WAYS

Logicians in all ages have told their students that while thought is, in a sense, free in its mode of operation, it is at the same time limited by certain axiomatic principles or laws. There are several of these laws, or axioms, and of course, laws which are of the nature of axioms stand in no need of proof. They need only to be stated in order to carry conviction to every rational mind.

Among these principles is the law of contradiction, which declares that a thing cannot be and not be at the same time. This "law" simply forbids the union of contradictions for it is obvious and sufficient reason that such a union would destroy the integrity of any judgment and render it unmeaning. When the beginner in logic hears of the "law" of contradiction he is apt to wonder why it should be regarded as being of sufficient importance to be called a law of thought. He thinks there is little danger of anyone believing that the same predicate can both belong and not belong to the same subject at the same time and in the same sense. No one is likely to imagine that an honest coin can turn up both heads and tails at the one throw. You cannot have it both ways in a rational world.

The ordinary news of the day, however, makes it plain that some people would like to have it both ways. The official German press furnishes striking illustrations of this. Two recent examples may be mentioned. The other day it was solemnly stated that German bombers aim only at military objectives, that the bombs which struck Buckingham Palace were intended, not for the Palace, but for an oil depot in the vicinity. Besides all this, the explanation went on, Buckingham Palace is regarded by the Germans as a perfectly legitimate target, and the attack was therefore fully justified. Naturally, one asks what it is that the German radio wants us to believe. Again it is announced that Germany is well supplied with food, that Europe is in no danger of starvation from the blockade, and that at the same time England deserves the condemnation of all the world because the blockade prevents food from reaching the starving populations of Europe. The German radio exhibits a truly German ingenuity in presenting its listeners with the widest possible assortment of incompatibilities and incongruities.

GIFTS FOR THE TROOPS

It is a happy thought that the people of Vancouver Island should be encouraged to make gifts to members of the First Canadian Scottish Battalion, shortly to leave here for the Atlantic Coast. The Women's Auxiliary of the regiment is making this possible in a wide sense today by depots at the department stores of David Spencer Limited and the Hudson's Bay Company. Relatives and friends of the troops will, in any case, make such gifts, but through these depots the general public, as well, has the opportunity. This is the first time during the present war that a full battalion is departing from Victoria. It is a unit very largely recruited from Vancouver Island. What ever its feats may be in the time to come will reflect credit on this part of the Dominion. One practical expression of pride in those soon to set out on the first stage of their journey to the war zone is to provide them with those comforts which mean so much to men in the services. The little things, so easily given, will tell the men of the Canadian Scottish how their fellow citizens wish them the best of luck.

FRIENDS OF BRITAIN

In Seattle an organization known as "Friends of Britain" has been incorporated to provide Spitfire planes, or the funds with which to buy them, for the Royal Air Force. This body will carry on without profit, reward or promotional expenses. The example it sets, it is hoped, according to its aims and purposes, will lead to the contribution of "one or more planes from every major city in the United States." This is another illustration of the growing sympathy across the border for the British Empire in the struggle in which it is engaged. A struggle which the American people are more and more realizing is one of vital concern to themselves. The executive of the "Friends of Britain" in Seattle is composed as follows: Officers—president, Mr. Harry S. Bowen; executive vice-president, Mr. Gordon Scott; treasurer, Mr. James Brennan; vice-president, Mr. Robert Gillespie; vice-president, Mr. Donald Cummings; executive secretary, Mr. John L. Scott. Directors—Dr. John K. Martin, Judge Donald MacDonald and Messrs. James Edgington, W. P. Cameron and William Anderson.

AIR RAID DISTRESS FUND

Victoria has fallen into line with other cities of the British Empire, and a Mayor's Fund is now in operation here to assist in the rehabilitation of air raid victims in the British Isles. It should be subscribed to liberally. The present intention is to receive contributions up to September 28. This limitation is a mistake. There is no reason to suppose that Germany's wanton bombing of civilians will cease, or even grow less for the time being. Destruction of homes will continue, and the need of funds will persist, perhaps for the duration of the struggle. On that account the Mayor's Fund here should not be circumscribed. It should be a fund that is maintained, for so long as Germany's air power inflicts war on non-combatants so long will there be the desire all over the Empire to mitigate the sufferings that are caused by this barbarous form of warfare.

If you want to go into battle, have an Englishman at your right hand and another at your left, and two immediately in front and two close behind. There is something in the English which seems to guarantee security. Never forget that, even when you are most irritated by the antics of these engaging madmen—Voltaire.

"Was a thief said the last kind word to Christ; Christ took the kindness and forgave the thief."

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

On the desk in front of this typewriter is a chestnut, selected, not at "Random" which we know is six thousand miles away, but from an abundance of its fellows on a city boulevard. It is a horse chestnut, the brown of its outer jacket, aching into rich mahogany patches, while on its underside there is an irregular sand-colored oval, giving the whole thing somewhat the appearance of a red-headed boy in a school cap. Modern industry and art could reproduce a replica of that chestnut, its exact copy, yet man, with all his science and invention, could not put life into the kernel, could not fashion a tree in embryo.

Except to a park superintendent, a boy on the way to school, or a columnist, the horse chestnut is almost without value. Yet, it embodies one of the greater mysteries of life. Between two and three million almonds could be packed in a bushel, and there is not a difference in form; but these are dead things, and their contents are the same, except for varying degrees of purity. Between man's replica of a chestnut and a chestnut life, perhaps, the alpha and the omega of all human knowledge, and that is not sufficient to bridge the gap, and so enable man to create trees in embryo. Man is a custodian, and not a creator.

Yet by combining his talents, with Nature, man may plant the kernel and Nature will reproduce from its own seed. She will take that unexplained bundle of life, and nurture it. From the sun and the soil, from water and air, from combinations perhaps unsuspected by man, Nature will produce another chestnut, and in time, a fresh supply of kernels. Man takes the kernels and plants for himself rows of life chestnut trees, shading a city's streets. Such avenues become a city attraction, an invitation to settlement, part of the city's cash business by means of tourists and residential vitality. The work in some share, has man's; but Nature owns the business, and parcels out those minute, invisible forms of life which can be simulated but not made by mankind. Here in Victoria man has been industrious, and Nature unfailingly generous.

Suppose, however, that man acquired a distaste for the appearance of the horse chestnut tree. If all men uprooted chestnut trees wherever found, the species might in time die out. That particular form of life might disappear, except in remote places where the destruction had not reached. Nature might, without undue effort, preserve the species in the wilds, and later restore it to a more reasonable age of man. Or the chestnut might pass into the fold of forgotten experiments: for all life is some form of experiment.

One could proceed to draw an analogy between the chestnut and man himself. But this is not the day for that. It is not pleasant to think of man uprooting man. To think strictly to the subject in hand, the horse chestnut, it can be said fairly that it is one of the most common, and beautiful sights of our Autumn season. It is such an accustomed sight that few people "see" it lying on the ground at all. A park superintendent, or a boy on the way to school, or a columnist, might pick it up, and restore it to a more reasonable age of man. Or the chestnut might pass into the fold of forgotten experiments: for all life is some form of experiment.

GIFTS FOR THE TROOPS

Sir—May I suggest that flashlights and extra batteries be included among the gifts for men leaving for overseas. They are very necessary, especially as the dark and long nights are coming, and batteries especially are difficult to get over there. K. MEAD-ROBINS

Boyer Gets Year In County Court In Cheque Cases

Convicted on a charge of unlawfully using a forged cheque with a face value of $25.23, drawn on the Shawanigan Lake Lumber Company, Anthony Frederick Boyer was sentenced to serve one year in prison at hard labor by Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court yesterday.

Boyer also received a concurrent sentence of one year in prison at hard labor for using a forged cheque with a face value of $34.92, drawn on the Shawanigan Lake Lumber Company on June 29.

Boss—Jones, yesterday you had the afternoon off on the plea that you were ill. Yet I saw you at the races, and you didn't look ill to me."

VICTORIA MAN ON LONG TREK

Search for Missing Trapper Leads Across Northern B.C. Into Yukon

How a former Victoria Rugby player, attached to the Fort Nelson post of the British Columbia Police, made an arduous 700-mile trek through the northernmost tip of the province and down Smith River in the Yukon Territory in search of a missing, Swedish trapper, O. R. Holmberg, was recounted yesterday at the headquarters of the Provincial Police.

The story was learned when the headquarters wireless of the force, in Victoria, intercepted a message to Fort Nelson on a portable wireless set owned by Corporal Engelson. For a time the headquarters station was able to work both ways with Corporal Engelson's set 800 miles away, learning of his set and the results of an epic search in the wilds of the northlands.

FAILED TO RETURN

In March of this year Holmberg, whose mother resides at Alimgas, Sweden, left his home in Victoria with a companion, Victor Erickson, on a beaver hunt. The two men arranged to separate and to meet in June at the junction of the Deer River and the Liard River. Erickson made his way out on time, and was picked up by plane. Holmberg, failed to arrive. Passing planes in the Yukon service, which flew daily over his trapline and cabin, saw no sign of life there. So search was ordered.

Corporal Engelson, with Edward Gairdner, a guide, commenced search after representations from the missing man's mother. The two men traveled 130 miles from Fort Nelson to the Deer River meeting place, searched a number of traplines in that area, and then went north along the Smith River into Yukon territory. There they found a raft made by Holmberg, and searched the banks of the stream, past rapids and falls, for a considerable distance.

After a trip of some 700 miles, Corporal Engelson reported yesterday that no trace could be found of Holmberg, and that he was returning to civilization with the guide. The hardships of the journey were lightly touched on but these included snow drifts of from four to six feet in depth; swollen streams, and the rigors of approaching winter in the wild lands of the north.

When a woman says: "And that isn't all!" you know she's just starting.

According to Culbertson

The forcing takedown of partner's opening bid is one of the most delicate of all bids, and, not unnaturally, therefore one of the most mis-handled. Take a deal like today's, for example. I regret to say that almost every advanced player would bid just as North did.

West took in his club ace on the opening lead and after that, of course, he had no way for dealer to avoid the loss of two trump tricks, hence the contract was down one. North-South had thrown away a game and could not even console themselves with the thought that they had gone out for the extra profit and glory of a slam.

North had allowed the possession of four-plus honor tricks to obscure his judgment. His bidding had trapped the partnership into a position where it had much more to lose than to gain. Let us analyze each separate bid.

South, with four-plus honor tricks and pretty good spade support, was entirely justified in his three diamond jump takeout, but after South raised to four diamonds,

Basketball Situation

Another basketball season will soon be here, and we feel we are expressing the wishes of every fan, player and team manager when we state that we hope conditions for games will be much better than they were during 1939-40. The present move to clarify the local situation should receive the careful consideration of all cage officials, as it seems to open the light to better conditions and more harmony in basketball circles. The present, as we see it, would be a good time to "bury the hatchet" and let bygones be by-gones. Victoria is a good basketball town, and has produced the best in the Dominion—a Canadian championship team. Such conditions as existed last season were detrimental to the success of the sport, and certainly not conducive to encouraging the younger players. We are not concerned in petty squabbles between organizations, but, like many other fans, have an interest in the game at heart. Up and coming young basketball players have only one desire—a chance to play the game under proper conditions, and on good playing courts. Such opportunities can only come if and when everybody interested forgets personalities and decides to work for the general good of the sport. And to us, there is no better time than the present—S.T.

Good Advice

Good advice from the editor of Better Homes and Gardens: "Why not drop into a church on a Sunday? You may discover that change in atmosphere is more refreshing than you expected, and in this country you can choose your own church. Even if you do not want to join a church, you can still attend." A leading legal light at the courthouse noticed that the elevator had been out of commission for several days. The uplift, who spent his early days on windmills before the use of shipboard electricity, happened to be standing forlornly by the main entrance. "What is the matter with the lift?" the legal man asked. "They took out the main motor for repairs," the lift replied. "From a border newspaper, 'The newspaper cameraman is the most powerful individual in America. He can make a learned man look ridiculous. He can make a short stout man look like a giant. He can make a tall and plump man look like a puny, frightened criminal at the bar like a mighty menace.' If the staff photographer sees this he will undoubtedly hit the firm for a raise." Tiny flashlights showing bright red light are now available in the United States to clip to dog's collars at night to safeguard them when they stray off the sidewalks. But nobody seems to come to the aid of father on his pay day.

All Wet
On a recent west coast cruise, two former passengers of the ship on the up-trip decided to visit their new-found friends on board the boat's return stop at the port. However, once aboard, North's four heart bid was out of order, and, as may be seen, put South in a trap. He could not dream of rebidding his short spade suit. He could not pass, despite his heart support, because he suspected North now was bidding a short suit merely to show "control." Hence his only recourse was to return to diamonds. And the partnership was over its head the moment it reached the five level.

The trouble sprang from the fact that North did not appreciate the true meaning of his own original jump takeout. After that strong action, it was unnecessary to show the heart control. A mere four spade bid would have done complete justice to North's holding. North had an excellent hand, but there was a definite weak spot in it, his trump support. This was indeed "pretty good" as far as game was concerned, but not good enough for slam purposes! There was good reason for supposing that he had a four card suit no more solid and perhaps even weaker, than the one he actually had. North had no right to suppose that South had the diamond king and the club ace, as "off the hand."

Hence, it was probable that the club ace was "off the hand." If South, after a jump takeout and a spade raise from North, could take a voluntary action, it was a virtual cinch that no slam would be missed. North's four heart bid, therefore, was redundant.

Glancing Over Sport

During the Fall and Winter months there will be roller skating sessions at the Sports Centre at the Willows twice a week. I have been informed. Formation of a skating rink hockey league is also under consideration. This sport had a good following in 1924-25 at the old V.I.A.A. gymnasium in Victoria. West. Linn Patrick played in that circuit in the juvenile division, if I am not mistaken. Today's Daily Colonist handled a race at the Willows between Killarney L. and Sahara Chief, if both go to the post. I will string along with the Chief to win the best part of the purse. Which ever team cops the American League pennant will trim the Cincy Reds in about six games. Yankees still have a chance to make it five straight in the American circuit, but their chances depend on what Cleveland and Detroit do to each other in the six games in which they meet. If these clubs break even and the Yanks get on the winning van they can sneak through and win the flag. Last Saturday's card at the Willows could have been named "The Comedy of Errors." The promoter left too many things for granted until the last moment; but, mind you, at the same time he ran into several bad breaks. Another factor which few people don't know, the chap who fought in the main event against Nickason wasn't the Bob Patterson who was originally booked from Denver. The American booking agent sent up the first palooka he found.—J.D.

POLLING TODAY IN MACKENZIE

Straight Contest Between Liberal and C.C.F. Nominations to Be Decided

Two candidates are standing for election, representing the Liberal and C.C.F. parties. The Conservatives did not contest the by-election.

Manfred McGeer, a brother of G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., is the Liberal candidate, and Grant MacNeil the nominee of the C.C.F. party in the riding.

The campaign closed yesterday after a two weeks' drive on the hustings, in which Premier Pattullo and several members of the Provincial Government took part.

A Liberal seat in the present Legislature, Mackenzie's place in the House became vacant on the death of John M. Bryan, former Liberal member for the district.

Stock Prices at New York Mart Close Irregular

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP).—Further mild profit-taking capped the stock market's strength today, and the best leaders could do was to mill over a slightly irregular close.

Several preferred issues moved up 1 to 4 points on small turnovers, but fractional variations either way was the rule for most groups.

The Associated Press average of fifty stocks was unchanged at 44.1, duplicating the proceedings of yesterday. Dealings were the lightest of the past four sessions, transfers totaling 380,550 shares against 469,670 the day before.

Another lift of 1-8 of a cent a pound in the price of scrap copper, together with reports of rising demand for domestic and foreign sources, added stocks in this group. Motors were not particularly responsive to a jump in this week's automotive output. Steels were unable to get far out in front despite signs of climbing production in this field.

Agricultural machinery shares were given a late run when Deere directors voted a dividend on yesterday. Dealings were the lightest of the past four sessions, transfers totaling 380,550 shares against 469,670 the day before.

Preferred stocks on the upside were Pittsburgh Steel, Twin City Rapid Transit, Jones & Laughlin, and National Supply.

Industrial and utility loans attracted enough buyers to advance into new 1940 highs in the averages, while other sections of the market were ranged and without definite trend.

Argentina and some other South American loans were under pressure and lost up to 3 points but other dollar obligations were fairly steady.

How Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 121.61; up .27.

Twenty rails, 28.27; up .02.

Twenty utilities, 21.98; up .01.

Total sales, 380,000.

LITTLE INTEREST IN GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP).—Interest in wheat pit trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange lagged today after a short-lived quiet yesterday and Wednesday following announcement of new minimum prices. Closing prices were at the minimums, 70 cents for the October future, 71 5-8 cents for December and 75 7-8 for May.

The purchase of approximately 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, presumably for export to the United Kingdom, was not reflected in pit dealings although mills were credited with 350,000 bushels of export flour business.

Chicago wheat closed 1-8 to 1 cent higher and Buenos Aires was 3-8 cent higher at noon.

Only odd cars were traded in the cash wheat market and coarse grain trade was also slow.

Waiting for Word to Go To England

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP).—Mrs. B. O'Brien waited here today for word from Ottawa enabling her to sail for England and war work with the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service. Her arrangements have been completed except for passport details.

The young Winnipeg woman, whose husband is overseas with the Canadian Active Service Force, applied last Autumn to join the service, branches of which provide ambulance drivers, cooks and office workers to replace men now called to duty in the front lines.

Acceptance of the application does not entail enlistment, she said. She will pay her own passage to England and once there will join the unit and take a thirty-day training period in camp.

Relatives in England sent her details of the unit's work last year shortly before the war broke out. She applied then to the British authorities, who sent word of her acceptance a short time ago.

Mrs. O'Brien was confident that she would be given a passport in spite of present Dominion Government restrictions against civilians traveling to England. She forwarded details of her plan along with her passport application.

Clubs and Societies

Native Daughters of B.C.

The monthly meeting of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, was held on Wednesday evening in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Government Street, with the chief factor, Miss Muriel Creech presiding. The reports of all the various committees were given. Plans for the Fall and Winter were made. Miss Jean Lorimer reported for the committee arranging the bazaar and tea to be held in the latter part of October. Tentative plans were made for a rummage sale in the near future. Several of the members volunteered to make agrons for the Children's Aid Society to be sold at the Children's Aid bazaar in early October. Resolutions from the Local Council of Women were read and will be discussed more fully at the next meeting. The next business meeting will be held on October 9.

There will be no social meeting in September. Following the meeting, the members enjoyed an informal half hour. The special prize of the evening was won by Miss Lillian Smethurst.

Britannia W.A.

The W.A. to Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, celebrated the birthday of the charter on Tuesday afternoon in the clubrooms, a social evening being enjoyed, at which the special guests were the executive of the parent branch. Soles were sung by Miss Enid Middleton and Mrs. C. Badger, who also acted as accompanist. Mr. R. Knight, the branch president, gave an interesting talk, after which all joined in community singing. A large ice cream cake, decorated with the colors of the branch and the legion crest, held the place of honor on the supper table and was cut by the president of the W.A., Mrs. H. Miller, assisted by Mrs. D. Ree. Prize winners for cribbage at the social on Thursday evening were Mrs. V. M. Smith and Mr. W. J. Howell, the same being in charge of Mr. H. Jarvis. Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. Ree and her assistants.

Solarium W.A.

At a meeting of the Solarium W.A. held on Thursday afternoon, it was announced that the stall and the contest at the Fall Fair had proved to be successful. Mrs. Kelly, convener of the fair work, reported that the net proceeds from the sale of novelties from the coffee table contest amounted to $156.15. The members were gratified, and Mrs. Kelly was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for her work. It was decided to hold a rummage sale early in October, and Mrs. Newton agreed to act as convener. Final arrangements will be announced later. It is hoped that those who have no clothing for which they have no further use will leave their parcels at the Solarium office, 220 Pemberton Building.

Baptist Mission Circle

The Emmanuel Baptist Mission Circle met on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. M. Bancroft, presided and was in charge of the programme from the study book "Women and the Way." Mrs. B. C. Gullie, accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Marchant, was the soloist for the afternoon. Members taking part in the study programme were, Kotea, Mrs. G. Price; China, Mrs. H. C. Parfitt; India and Japan, Mrs. W. Dinmore; Mrs. Miller, Mrs. A. H. Marion, Mrs. W. Dinmore was appointed convener of the committee for the annual Thanksgiving luncheon to be held on October 10.

Y.P.S. NEWS

FIRST UNITED

The First United Y.P.C. held its first meeting of the season recently, with a good attendance. The president, Douglas Balfour, occupied the chair. The programme book the form of a rally, which was well arranged by Miss Margaret Walker. Previous to Miss Mary Lowden's interesting account of the Calgary conference, Miss Dorothy Warren led an informal skit advertising the Leadership Training School, which will start on September 30. Other guest artists who helped to make the programme a success were Mae Dumbleton, pianist; Byrtle Eilers, soloist; Miss Charlotte Crawford, who led a rousing sing-song, accompanied by the piano by Miss Morris. Arrangements are being made for another entertaining programme to be held next week, to which all young people are cordially invited.

ST. MATTHIAS'

St. Matthias' Branch held a short business meeting on Wednesday evening in the parish hall. Plans were made for the penny sale to be held on Wednesday at 7 p.m. The St. Matthias' Badminton Club will commence play on October 1, with Grace McDonnell as president, and Albert Rowe, secretary-treasurer. The meeting adjourned with a splash party at the Crystal Garden.

Oak Bay Church Group Works for Needy Children

The West Group of the Oak Bay United Church W.A. held a luncheon meeting on Thursday in the schoolroom, a large number of members and their friends attending. Mrs. L. R. Harper and Mrs. A. Tinker were the luncheon convener and were responsible for the charming appearance of the tables and for the dainty little nosegays presented to each guest.

An interesting account of what has been done during the past three months the garments having been sent to the Oak Bay Red Cross depot. The articles made included twenty-eight quilts, seventy garments such as girls' skirts and dresses, boys' trousers and blouses, and women's and girls' nightgowns; twenty-five knitted garments; seventeen pairs of socks, all of which had been made from materials donated to the group.

It is hoped that more workers will assist throughout the Winter months, for it is felt that the need will be great. The sewing meetings will be held on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. Donations of material will be appreciated.

Colonist Handicap Is Feature Gallop At Willows Today

Good Field Assured for Big Event—Trophy Will Go to Winner—Public Choice Mounts Finally Have Their Day—Owners Are Suspended—First Post Time Is 1:45 o'clock

Form players had their fillings yesterday at the Willows track, with public choice mounts finishing well up in the running in each of the seven events. The local racing strip, drying out rapidly under continued sunshine, was approximately three seconds faster.

Only upset in a day of form galloping came in the seventh race, when Chief Yeoman, even over-looked by the place bettors, took that spot and paid $16.10 for the biggest pay-off. Coupled with Sky Saint, the winner in the quinnella betting, Chief Yeoman made possible a $129.75 return for the two-horse selection.

Indefinite suspension of owners T. Lovett and J. C. Pendray, Jr. was announced yesterday, for the unsatisfactory performance of Arky, heavily-backed thoroughbred, in the fifth race on Thursday. Coupled with the suspension was the announcement by the presiding stewards that no horses will be allowed to run at the present Willows meeting in the colors of Lovett and Tack.

TODAY'S FEATURE
Today's feature gallop at the popular five-furlong enclosure will be The Daily Colonist Handicap, at six furlongs and thirty yards. The overnight entries list ten speedsters, but only eight of them will be able to go to the starting gates.

Bahara Chief, owned by Mrs. Frank Boban, Nanaimo, and last year's winner of the event, has been given top impost of 118 pounds. Flying Hair, from the same stable, will carry 106 pounds. Other entries and their allotted weights are as follows:

Dodd, 100 pounds; Simony's Boy, 103 pounds; Good Han, 100 pounds; Happy Dinah, 100 pounds; Contributor, 106 pounds; Simtee, 109 pounds; Maid of Broxa, 104 pounds; Teddas, 102 pounds; and Rattle Hocks, 102 pounds.

Second highest impost has been given to the popular Simtee and Happy Dinah, both of whom will carry 100 pounds.

The owner of the winner of the handicap will be presented with a silver trophy, with the words "Colonist Handicap" inscribed on it. The trophy will be presented to the winner of the handicap, sponsor of the event.

The daily double, Lasswade and Once In Awhile, favorites in their respective gallops, returned $19.20, while the quinnella bet in the fifth race, paid $20.40.

SPORRIS TAKE LEAD
Emil Sporr, veteran Sisk hard-boiled, and top rider at the Willows for many seasons, took over top berth in the race for riding laurels, going three points ahead of August Sylvester, young New Yorker. Sporr, rode two winners and a second, for a total of ten points. His aggregate at the present time is eighty-three points.

Alex Haller, Vancouver hardboiled, brought home two winners, and second and a third, for eleven points, and moved into a two-way second-place tie with Sylvester, former leader, with eight points. Johnny Hruschak, fourth-place rider, picked up six points and boosted his total to fifty-eight.

GOOD PROGRAMME TODAY
Today will mark the final week-end galloping at the Willows track, and in anticipation of a record-breaking attendance, officials have lined up a good programme. There will be seven flat races and a hurdle event. Feature gallop will be The Daily Colonist Handicap at six furlongs and thirty yards. Two other sprints and four distance events round out the running, with the steeplechase on the track completing the day's show. First post is 1:45 o'clock.

Wild Scoring Spree in Eighth Inning Decides Game for the Tigers

PAWTUCKET, R.I., Sept. 20 (AP)—Although he disappointed them in his last New England start, the railbirds agreed today that William L. Brann's four-year-old Challeon is a knockout for the $25,000 Added Narragansett Special when they saw him reel off half a mile in 47.2 seconds.

Challeon appeared much sharper than he did about two months ago when he finished behind Eight Thirty and Hash in the Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs, and despite his top weight of 130 pounds, he appears destined to enter the starting gate here tomorrow as an odds-on favorite in the field of eleven.

Hash, the Greentree Stud's star, romped an easy half in 48.4-5 under restraint and appeared in prime condition after his winning effort in last week's Edgemere at Aqueduct.

Only two others entered for this mile and three-sixteenths test have been rated high up by the handicappers. Arnold Hagar's Dit, the only three-year-old on the list, and the Valinda Farm's Vacuety, which accounted for the King Philip Handicap here two weeks ago.

Challeon will be called upon to give eight pounds to the dangerous Hash, twenty-three to Dit and fourteen to the Valinda colt.

CAPITOL SHOWING NEW LAUGH HIT

"I Love You Again" Co-Stars Myrna Loy and William Powell

—Here Today

Hitting an all-time high for the number of laughs per second, "I Love You Again" co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, will open today at the Capitol Theatre.

Taking a new turn, inasmuch as no "Thin Man" mystery or tactics are involved, the story deals with the plight of a man who suddenly recovers from an eight-year attack of amnesia only to discover that he has acquired a new personality, a wife, bank account, a spotless reputation in the town of Habersville and the manager's berth in a large pottery works.

ATLAS Two tuneful song hits THEATRE were written for Dorothy Lamour to sing in her role of night club entertainer in "Johnny Apollo," 20th Century-Fox drama, which ends today at the Atlas Theatre. One, "Dancing for Nickels and Dimes," the other, "This Is the Beginning of the End."

DOMINION "River's End," which THEATRE is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, was adapted for the screen from the popular James Oliver Curwood novel by Barry Trivers and Bertram Millhauser. Ray Enright directed.

Bays Beat Jokers By Thirteen Goals To Move Into Lead

Menzies' Lacrosse Squad Scores Easy Victory Over Rivals in Senior League Play-Off Series, 21-3

—Bob Wallace Nets Six Goals—The Next Game Is Carded for Monday Evening

Manager Ted Menzies' James Bay stick handlers moved a notch closer to their second senior box lacrosse championship last night at the Victoria Sports Centre, when they snowed the Jokers under a 21-3 setback in the third game of the best-of-five series for the honors. The outcome gave the orange sweatered Bays a one-game lead, and unless Gus Munro's proteges show a complete reversal of form the series will end Monday evening.

After the first half, there was never a question of a doubt as to which was the better club. Jokers, showing plenty of fight, stayed with the smarter Bays in the initial stanza and pulled up at the first period breather on the short end of a 6-5 score. Even in the second stanza it looked as if the Jokers were going to make things interesting for the defending champions. In that period the eventual winners, outscored the black-clad stickmen three goals to one, but even then the fans, most of them pro-Joker judging by their applause, felt things would end to their satisfaction.

But that second-quarter lead was only the beginning as far as the Bays were concerned. In the third stanza they uncorked a blistering attack that left the Jokers practically standing still. Playing like champions, and literally turning the Jokers into the floor, James Bay fired home seven goals without a return, and pulled up at the three-quarter mark leading 16-6.

Even the most ardent Joker supporter was ready to admit that the game was sewed up for the evening, but that did not dampen their enthusiasm, and when big, handsome Murray Patrick fired home two goals, the Jokers in the final stanza pandemonium broke loose in the spacious building.

FAST AND RUGGED

Play was fast and rugged all evening, with the players handing out plenty of stiff body checks and laying on the wood. There were times when tempers flared, but it was not until fifteen seconds before full time that any fighting broke out. Frank Doherty and Keith Ludbrook, jammed in the corner, decided the quickest way to settle matters was with their fists, and they proceeded to swing. The fracas lasted only a few seconds, and then the referees took them for the remainder of the game.

Big Art McKim, class of local net custodians, turned in one of his most sensational performances of the season. Left all by himself time after time, McKim robbed Jokers' sources of what looked like certain takes.

Jimmy Skellern, minding the nets for the losers, made a number of spectacular saves, but was beaten many times on long shots. His defence, after the first quarter, gave him little support, and shifty Bay

Two Field Days Planned by Mink Breeders' Group

At the regular meeting of the Mink Breeders' Association last night, under the chairmanship of F. P. Pail, president, it was announced that arrangements had been made for the services of D. Pallen, Vancouver, who will come here to grade the mink in October, when the skins are prime.

Mr. Pallen will also act as grader and judge at the association's field day, to be held on November 3.

A report was submitted concerning another field day to be held on September 30, at 2 p.m., at the Saanich Park Grounds. While special invitations are being forwarded all breeders an open invitation is extended to all those who might wish to attend.

Other business at the meeting dealt with reports submitted by the members concerning the hatching supply available, as well as other mink supplies, and the submission of interesting facts on the skins of mink from the fur buyers' angle. This report was submitted from an interview of a prominent California fur manufacturer.

The Italian "hedgehog" rumbling along in clouds of choking dust and sand, have paused at Sidi Barrani. Bedouin seaside trading post 240 miles from Alexandria, and so far there has been no "polish plank" fighting and nothing like a pitched battle, British sources said.

The Italians prefer to send their tanks out in small "feeder" groups, moving cautiously and protected by the artillery-bearing trucks, which the British authorities have learned can fire shells four or five miles if need be.

Edward Verster, South African member of the crew, said today he had been sailing for more than twenty-five years, but had never experienced a storm as severe as the one which grounded the Incomore.

planes and sent them back toward France in disorderly retreat. This brief but violent battle that began above cloud level and strung out in many a howling plane-to-plane encounter above the English Channel, was the greatest engagement in Friday's defence of London.

SAVAGE ENCOUNTER

Illustrative of the savagery of the R.A.F. attack was a British staff writer, Friday night that in the day's fighting more British than German planes were downed—seven British to four for the Nazis. It was the first time that the R.A.F. suffered heavier losses than those of the invaders. It was stated, however, that reports were not complete. Thursday's actions five enemy bombers were shot down and no British fighters were lost.

Friday's big action was over the southeast coast and this was the pattern of the counter-attack of the British defenders.

Just as the German planes crossed the Kent coast, they were caught between two, irregular columns of fire—one rising momentarily from the anti-aircraft guns below and then fading; the other opening up from British fighter planes which plunged suddenly from the high hiding-places in which they had waited. The invaders were declared to have fled immediately with British machine-gun bullets pursuing them out over the Channel.

The defence, a logical development of long experiments in the co-ordination of ground and aerial fire, cheered Britain.

DAY'S RAID MINOR

The day's raid on London was minor, and only two bombs were reported dropped, but Nazi bombers likewise were over other areas of the southwest, and at night they were over the northwest as well.

LEARN OF MOVES

"The Germans made no attempt actually to invade England," he said. "They made practice attempts which were repulsed with heavy losses. The news of these exercises slipped through to England and British submarines sank the steel barges."

Solberg said the long-range guns being used to shell Dover were captured French guns of 260 and 350 calibre. He said they were based near Calais on railroad cars and the Royal Air Force had bombed the area severely.

John J. Mangan, Paris correspondent of Time magazine, likewise reported heavy loss of life among German troops engaged in practice manoeuvres.

A United States Government official, who asked that his name not be used, said "England will win this war if she can keep the morale of the people up and the R.A.F. in the air."

"These air attacks only made the people mad and they fight back twice as hard."

TO LECTURE ON COMING EVENTS

"Herr Hitler, Will You Listen?" Is Title of Address By Rev. S. R. Orr

"Herr Hitler, Will You Listen?" is the title of the lecture by Rev. S. R. Orr at the Crystal Garden auditorium on Sunday, when he will give the substance of a prophetic message by Winston Churchill published some time ago.

He will also show how this accords with a Scripture survey of coming days in Britain and Europe. The following questions will be answered:

"What now about Hitler's plans for the rulership of Britain? Who has he nominated for the honor?" "Who is predicting that the U.S.A. will yet become part of a world Fascist empire and why?" "Where is there any guidance about whether Europe will yet be dominated by any one man or any single power?" "Under what charter are all nations at present operating?" "What does Hitler's out of England and dooms to failure all Nazi operations in U.S.A.?" "Have we any Bible time marks which make the answer sure and certain?"

"Matter" Is Theme On Sunday

"Matter," will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday. The golden text is, "Little children, keep yourselves from idols," I John v. 21.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; Who healeth all thy diseases" (Psalm ciii, 2, 3).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If Christian Science takes away the popular gods—sin, sickness and death—it is Christ, Truth, who destroys these evils, and so proves their nothingness."

At the morning service, he will continue the series entitled "The Promised Land for Believers—Romans Eight," the message being "Debtors to Live, Out the Purposes of God."
